Apply for a UEI to receive federal grants

The Working Washington Grant has $70 million available for businesses and non-profits. You will need a Unique Entity Identifier (UEI) to apply and receive these funds.

Our team can help you apply for a UEI. The registration process is free.

Here's how to receive your UEI on the SAM.gov website:

- If you already have a DUNS number that is registered on SAM.gov. A UEI is already assigned to you. Log onto your account at SAM.gov and make sure your physical address is correct. You can view your UEI number there.
- If you do not have a DUNS number. Create an account at SAM.gov. Go to your Workspace and click "Get Started." Select the "Get Unique Entity ID" button and fill in your business information.

Working Washington Grants are open now

Small businesses and non-profit organizations can apply for a grant from the Working Washington Program.

You are eligible if your business has experienced financial hardship due to Covid.

The application will be open from August 17 to September 9.

Your business should apply for a UEI (Unique Entity Identifier) to receive this grant. Minority and women-owned businesses are encouraged to apply.

Our team can help you apply for a UEI number and Working Washington Grant. Please email us at sambath.eat@caccwa.org or call (206) 886-6813.

Q&A: Get ready for the Working Washington Grant

Q: Why do I need a UEI number for my business?

A: This UEI number helps the government identify your business. A UEI number is required to receive federal funds, like grants and loans.

Q: Where can I learn more about this program?

A: You can visit SAM.gov or commercegrants.com. The online grant application will be available in Khmer.

Q: How can I prepare for the Working Washington Grant?

A: You can apply for your UEI now to get started. It will be helpful to gather financial documents from 2021. You can also look for the NAICS code of your business, which is part of the application.

If you need help with your application, please reach out to our team.
